Cookies and privacy policy

You are anonymous as a user of KSL Consulting’s websites. In other words, we do not automatically register any information that can identify you personally.

Information we automatically collect

In order to develop and improve our websites and measure traffic on the sites, we automatically collect statistical information in anonymous form on usage of our websites.

Part of this information is collected through the use of cookies. A cookie is a small text file saved to your computer and allows our website to follow your visit and to recognize your computer when you visit our website again. A cookie is not a program and does not contain virus, nor spreads malicious software.

We do not use cookies to collect personally identifiable information about you.

We may also use cookies to save your preferences or language in order to provide a better experience on our websites.

We automatically log information on your:

- Internet Protocol (IP) address & Internet Service Provider
- geography

- time of access
- browser type and language
- operating system
- screen resolution
- the Web page you visited before our site

We also collect information about your usage and activity on our sites eg visited pages, words searched for in our site search engine and whether your computer/browser has previously accessed our sites.

The information collected by these cookies is stored on servers in Denmark, and will not be used for any other purposes than to help improve the services it provides to our users and for internal reporting in KSL Consulting. We use our own products, and products of third parties acting on our behalf, to analyse, optimise and improve our sites.

Cookies used on our sites

KSL Consulting uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service. This provides us with anonymised statistical information about users. Google Analytics process IP addresses and information from cookies used on the KSL Consulting websites, so that we know how many page views these have, the number of users, what browsers users are using (so that we can target resources in the right way to maximise compatibility for the majority of users) and in which country, city or region users are located.

Third party cookies

We sometimes embed photos and video content from websites such as YouTube. As a result, when you visit a page with content embedded from other websites, you may be presented with cookies from these websites. KSL Consulting does not control the dissemination of these cookies. You should check the relevant third party website for more information about their use of cookies.

Our websites may use embedded “share” buttons to enable users to easily share information with friends through a number of popular social networks. These sites may set a cookie when you are also logged in to their service. KSL Consulting does not control the dissemination of these cookies and you should check the relevant third party website for more information about their use of cookies.

How to reject or delete cookies

We will not use cookies to collect personally identifiable information about you. However, if you wish to restrict or block the cookies which are set by our websites, or indeed any other website, you can do this through your browser settings. The Help function within your browser should tell you how.

Alternatively, you may wish to visit www.aboutcookies.org which contains comprehensive information on how to do this on a wide variety of browsers. You will also find details on how to delete cookies from your computer as well as more general information about cookies. For information on how to do this on the browser of your mobile phone you will need to refer to your handset manual.

Please be aware that restricting cookies may impact the functionality of the KSL Consulting websites.

Personal information

We do not collect personal information unless you have explicitly provided it to us eg by filling in a mail or subscription form. We do not share such information with third parties. We may store such information in order to process your request and need to ensure that the information is treated diligently eg by access restricting our systems. However, we cannot guarantee 100 % secure data transmissions on the Internet as others may unlawfully intercept such transmissions. You are therefore ultimately responsible for submission of personal information to us. You are entitled to having your personal data deleted by requesting this to KSL Consulting.
